for fans of dave eggert teju cole and james mcbride comes this extraordinary novel of morality and the redemptive powers of art that offers a glimpse into an african underworld rarely described in fiction meet bingo the greatest drug runner in the slums of kibera nairobi and maybe the world a teenage grifter often mistaken for a younger boy he faithfully serves wolf the drug lord of kibera bingo spends his days throwing rocks at krazi hari the prophet of kibera s garbage mound lipping safari tourists of their cash and hanging out with his best friend slo george a taciturn fellow whose girth is a mystery to bingo in a place where there is never enough food bingo earns his keep by running white to a host of clients including thomas hunsa a reclusive artist whose paintings rooted in african tradition move him but when bingo witnesses a drug related murder and wolf sends him to an orphanage for protection bingo s life changes and he learns that life itself is the run a modern trickster tale that draws on african folklore bingo s run is a wildly original often very funny and always moving story of a boy alone in a corrupt and dangerous world who must depend on his wits and inner resources to survive one of library journal s outstanding new voices to consider bingo s voice guides us by turns he is aggressive confident smart cynical but also naive bingo tosses his observations at us with great urgency almost percussively in a staccato manner that recalls gunshots and though he is blunt he is also a sensitive observer levine is creating a sense of an entire world raffish and fast the larger story levine is telling is the story of a person's mind and of the good bad and indifferent forces that make him what he is and that story is told with compassion and intelligence the boston globe james mcbride author of the good lord bird and the color of water bingo's run is one of those rare books that infuse a potentially difficult subject with intimacy tenderness and humor social commentary gritty comedy and pure cinematic adrenaline meet in an utterly compelling novel with a voice all its own tash aw author of five star billionaire bingo's run manages to read like timely news and high adventure at the same time levine's main character bingo is an underage drug runner hardened orphan and hustler extraordinaire he is also funny and wise well beyond his years the rousing story of bingo's evolution is matched only by levine's portrait of modern day nairobi both child and city depicted with real flair and affection victor lavalle author of the devil in silver bingo is a fascinating and inimitably likable character levine a mayo clinic professor of medicine and well known child advocate excels at telling his adventurous comic and realistically gritty story with humor but not with pathos successfully addressing the harsh and sometimes tragic story of a child at risk library journal
